Re: Senior Transportation Planner / Traffic Engineer

Dear Hiring Manager,

I would like to apply for the Senior Transportation Planner / Traffic Engineer position with the Transportation Planning and Traffic Engineering team in Toronto. I am an Assistant Planner in Transportation Planning at the City of Toronto, and before that I worked in GO rail service design at Metrolinx and briefly at Mott MacDonald.

The posting includes research and analysis of land use and travel data, the transportation impact of proposed developments, and microsimulation. At the City I review development applications and the transportation studies filed with them against City standards and Official Plan policy, and recommend conditions where something is missing. I analyze travel and network data, including several years of the Transportation Tomorrow Survey, and write the memos, reports and presentations that carry findings to planners, engineers and managers.

At Mott MacDonald I ran Synchro traffic simulations of Ontario Line construction staging and road closures, and at Metrolinx I ran OpenTrack simulations of GO rail services. I also set up a command line workflow that pre-simulated slow orders in batches, cutting turnaround on scenario requests from days to hours, and built the Crew Variance Tool, a Python application that read large JSON operations files and summarised speed profiles and run-time variance across subdivisions. I also work in VISSIM, AutoCAD and Civil 3D, and GIS.

I should be straightforward about the gaps. The posting asks for eight to ten years of experience and registration with PEO as a P.Eng. or Engineer-in-Training; I have about four and a half years and I am not registered with PEO. I have not done safety audits or collision analysis, used Sidra, prepared parking justification or loading studies, or led proposals and fee preparation. If the team is also hiring at the planner level, I would welcome being considered for that role.

Thank you for considering my application.

Sincerely,

Abdullah Al Zahid
