Re: Project Manager II, Transportation Planning (Posting 5507)

Dear Hiring Manager,

I would like to apply for the Project Manager II, Transportation Planning position. I am an Assistant Planner in Transportation Planning with the City of Toronto, and before that I was a Transportation Planner at Metrolinx, one of the agencies the posting says this role works with.

At the City I review development applications and the transportation studies filed with them, and I analyze travel and network data, including several years of the Transportation Tomorrow Survey, to work out where capacity is short. I write the briefing notes that come out of that work and present to planners and engineers in other divisions. I have run Synchro traffic simulations and OpenTrack rail simulations, and I work in ArcGIS Pro and QGIS. At Metrolinx I set up a command line workflow that pre-simulated slow orders in batches, cutting turnaround on scenario requests from days to hours, and built the Crew Variance Tool, a Python application that read large JSON operations files and summarised speed profiles and run-time variance across subdivisions.

I should be straightforward about the gaps. The posting asks for seven years of experience and a P.Eng. or C.E.T.; I have about four and a half years, and I am not registered with PEO. I have not led a Municipal Class Environmental Assessment or a region-wide corridor study, I have not used EMME, and I do not hold a PMP. I do not hold a Class G licence, which the posting requires by the first day. I am applying because the posting says equivalent combinations of education and experience will be considered, and because the work, multi-modal studies and technical review across municipal and provincial partners, is close to what I do now.

Thank you for considering my application.

Sincerely,

Abdullah Al Zahid
