Hiring Manager
Vision Zero Strategy, Transportation Services
City of Toronto

Re: Project Manager, Transportation Services (Job ID 67209)

Dear Hiring Manager,

I would like to be considered for the Project Manager, Transportation Services position in the Vision Zero Strategy unit. I am an Assistant Planner in Transportation Planning at the City, and the parts of this role that match my experience are the transportation data analysis, the work with other divisions and consultants, and the reporting to senior staff.

At the City I analyze travel and network data, including several years of the Transportation Tomorrow Survey, and I review development applications and the transportation studies filed with them against City standards. I advise on by-laws and regulations that bear on the street network, and I write the briefing notes and reports that carry findings to senior staff. I coordinate with divisions, consultants and outside agencies whose priorities conflict, and I run assigned projects from scoping through to recommendations. Before that, at Metrolinx, I assessed rail operating changes in OpenTrack, and at Mott MacDonald I modelled road closures in Synchro.

At Metrolinx I set up a command line workflow that pre-simulated slow orders in batches, cutting turnaround on scenario requests from days to hours, and built the Crew Variance Tool, a Python application that read large JSON operations files and summarised speed profiles and run-time variance across subdivisions.

I should be straightforward about the gaps. I have not worked in road safety, so I know Vision Zero and Safe System principles from reading rather than from practice, and I have not analyzed collision data. I have not procured or administered consultant contracts or been accountable for a project budget, and I have not supervised staff. I do not hold a P.Eng. or RPP designation. I am applying because the analysis, coordination and writing underneath the role are what I do each day, and I would like to grow into project leadership in this field.

Thank you for considering my application.

Sincerely,

Abdullah Al Zahid
